The Springer Heirs.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 22.—The Springer heirs placed the matter of securing their right to the land on which Wilmington, Del., is situated in the hands of a committee, who were furnished with money to present the claim. The session was turbulent.

Death of Commodore Blake.

NEW YORK, Jan 22—Commodore Homer C Blake, of the United States navy, died today from a malarial disease contracted during a recent cruise in the Asiatic squadron. He was at Washington about six weeks ago when he passed an examination for promotion to commodore. He was confined to his house only a week. He leaves a widow and one daughter

Still After Uncle Sammy's Scalp.

ALBANY, Jan. 21.—At the Kelly democratic conference this evening, N. U Mosk, chairman of the state committee, called the meeting to order, saying that he thought it proper to call for a consultation of those democrats who had made a stand against personal dictation in the campaign last fall, and let them adopt measures which would lead to the nomination to the presidency one whom the place would seek, and not one who bought the place. A resolution was adopted affirming the unquestioned right of the democrats to reject a nomination made by a party convention, of a candidate who is offensive to a considerable body of the party, but we see nothing in the past or present circumstances of the party in this state to prevent its uniting upon a candidate fairly nominated, who is acceptable to all sections of the party. Also, that it is necessary that a state convention be convened to appoint delegates to the national convention.

Meeting of the U. S. Copper Manufacturers' Association.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 22.—The Copper Manufacturers' Association of the United States has advanced the price of sheet copper two cents a pound.

A Big Mortgage.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—A fifteen million dollar mortgage, authorized by the directors and stockholders of the Texas Pacific railroad, formally approved yesterday, was executed to-day.

WASHINGTON CITY.

An Appeal for Yakoob Bey's Condemned Children.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The president of the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children memorialized congress today through Senator Kernan, calling attention to the barbarities about to be practiced on certain Chinese children. He has sent to congress and the president a communication in relation to a pitiful appeal which has reached him from the Pacific coast. He says that in 1877 Yakoob Bey, the famous Central Asian chief and Chinese rebel, was captured and put to death by the Chinese government by a slow and painful process. Those of his family who had not fled on his death into Russian territory were cruelly executed. As if the exile or slaughter of every adult member of his family were not penalty enough, four of his children, ranging in age from fourteen to five have been solemnly sentenced for "hereditary high treason to the emperor of China." One would naturally conclude that the complicity of the boys being disproved their acquittal of guilt should follow, especially in view of their tender years. In the contrary they are consigned to a doom more horrible than death. In brief, they are to be kept until a certain age in prison and then cruelly emasculated and consigned as slaves to the soldiery for uses and practices unhappily too common in the east, but which, Mr Cook says, "are not so much as to be named among Christians." "This," says Mr Gerry, "is no overdrawn picture." He then urges immediate action in the matter, and says that if the Chinese government will commute the sentence of these wretched children to banishment this society stands ready to receive and place them at its own expense, where they will be properly maintained, educated and cared for

Grand Scheme for Closer Relations with South America

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—A Times' Washington special says Judge Davis presented to the senate to-day the petition of J A Lynch praying for the encouragement of closer commercial relations between the United States and the republics of South America. Major Lynch proposes that congress pass an act authorizing the president of the United States to invite the governments of the several states interested to send delegates to Washington to adopt such measures as are most practicable to carry forward the work in the interest of commerce and mutual prosperity. Major Lynch says no physical obstacle exists to the construction of a through line of railroad running at the foot of the eastern slope of the great chain of mountains which would open that vast interior region to our commerce and connect on the eastern side at the waters of navigation with a grand system extending thousands of miles through the U S of Columbia, Guiana, Venezuela, Brazil, Uruguay, Paraguay, the Argentine Republic. On the Pacific side, with the principal seaports by means of branch railroads similar to those constructed in Peru and terminating on the Pacific ocean with one branch at the flourishing seaport of Valparaiso and on the Atlantic at the seaport of Buenos Ayres. Senator Davis presented a bill incorporating the ideas of Major Lynch, and requesting the president to invite a convention as suggested

The Matter of Railroad Grants

Morgan offered in the senate a resolution which was adopted directing the secretary of the interior to furnish the senate any information in the interior department to answer to the following inquiries: What grants of public lands made by acts of congress to railroad companies or to states or territories in aid of such companies remain to complete [illegible] of the failure of grantees or beneficiaries to comply with the terms of such grants in such cases if any where there has been partial compliance with the terms or conditions of the grants? To what extent has there been such compliance and to what extent is there just cause to declare a forfeiture of grants and what reasons of justice, equity or public policy [illegible] are there [illegible] from declaring such grants [illegible] whole or in part [illegible] companies to which lands [illegible] for the benefit of railroads and where just cause of forfeiture exists and where bona fide conveyance has been made to purchasers for value what proportion of lands so granted have been sold to such purchasers and what further legislation, if any, is necessary to secure to such persons their full equitable rights to such lands, adopted

The Indian Appropriation Bill

The Indian appropriation bill as agreed upon by the committee on appropriations is $4 6[illegible]—$500 000 less than the estimates of the department and $[illegible] less than last year.

Political Prospect in North Carolina

WASHINGTON Jan 22—Colonel Keogh secretary of the national republican committee has arrived here from North Carolina and reports that republican prospects for carrying that state next November are excellent

The President will Stand by Morton

A story is printed here that the senate yesterday in executive session informally agreed to ask the president to withdraw the nomination of John Morton to be collector of internal revenue at San Francisco and save him from the mortification of a rejection. It proves to be a canard. The nomination is still pending before the finance committee and Morton's friends claim that a favorable report will be made next Tuesday and that he will be confirmed by a majority. The president has been asked by the California delegation to withdraw Morton's name but he declined to do so, remarking that even if defeated it would not prevent him from standing by Morton

Land Decision

The secretary of the interior has affirmed the decision of the commissioner of the general land office in the case of I V Wilkinson vs the State of California involving a tract of land in the Los Angeles land district

A Sharp Blow by Congressman Weaver at Black John.

During a debate in the house on the bank reserve bill Weaver made a sharp speech with some cutting remarks respecting Logan, who recently in the senate alluded slightingly to Weaver's bill to pay soldiers the difference between gold and greenbacks at the time of the war. He said that it was to be expected that a man who had voted for the back salary grab and put $3200 in his pocket would be opposed to doing justice to soldiers

Whitthorne, Hawley, Kiefer and others also spoke on the subject

Comments on the Defeat of the National Bank Reserves Bill.

WASHINGTON Jan 22—The defeat of the bill in the house to-day providing that one-half of the national bank reserves should be kept in coin was brought about by a singular combination of hard and soft money men—the latter approving it on the ground that it would discriminate against the greenback and the former because in their opinion it would impair the permanency of resumption. On the other hand the votes in favor of the bill were cast by an equally curious medley of representatives usually opposed to each other on all financial questions, and in fact, it seems to be that a large number of members were so uncertain as to what the bill really meant that they voted against it on the high general principles of Price's resolution which declares in regard to currency matters that congress this year should "let well enough alone"

Purchase of Silver.

The treasury has purchased 327 000 ounces of silver for the Philadelphia and San Francisco mints

An Old Question Revived.

Gov Henry D Cooke testified regarding the Freedmen's bank loans stating that he was straightforward in all those loans. He could not recall the figures or circumstances of the loan to General O O Howard and others

Kellogg Investigation.

The senate elections committee has refused to allow Senator Kellogg to cross examine a former Spofford witness to show that he had perjured himself in swearing that he saw Kellogg pay over bribe money in New Orleans. The witness acknowledged that he was mistaken in his former testimony

G W Morse of Washington testified that as a friend of Spofford he had hired Elder to go to New Orleans and procure testimony favorable to Spofford, but that he had cautioned Elder that no witnesses should be bought

This closed the testimony. Counsel have over two weeks to prepare arguments

German Affairs—Political, Military, Etc

BERLIN, Jan 22—A bill has been presented in the bundesrath proposing eleven additional new regiments of infantry, two of artillery and one battalion to the German army, one regiment of infantry to be Bavarian, two Saxon and the rest Prussian. The bill also proposes an addition of thirty-two field batteries to the already existing artillery force. The changes contemplated would entail a permanent yearly outlay of seventeen million marks

The Woman Suffrage Convention

Before the national woman suffrage convention to-day, Miss Florence Harding of Indiana, appealed to young women to abandon their lives of frivolity and take the subject of suffrage into serious consideration. Miss Phœbe Cozzens, of St. Louis, who had as her subject "The Moral Aspect of the Woman Question," and who held that in the revolutionary and other wars women had always been foremost in noble deeds, was the final speaker.

GENERAL GRANT AT HAVANA.

Arrival of the Party and their Reception by Officials and Citizens.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

HAVANA Jan 22—The steamer Admiral arrived this morning having on board Gen. and Mrs Grant, Col Fred Grant and his wife, General Phil Sheridan and wife and two young ladies. As the Admiral entered port, a small steamer belonging to the navy department and carrying General Arias civil governor of the province of Havana and confidential adjutant of Captain General Blanco, several staff officers, Henry Hall U S Consul and a number of American citizens among them General Webb proceeded to meet the Admiral which they boarded. Gen Arias then tendered General Grant the hospitalities of the city and abode in the palace and said that Captain General Blanco expressed regret at not being in the city to welcome General Grant but that he hoped to arrive before the party took their leave. General Grant replied that he would be happy to meet General Blanco. The whole party immediately after an exchange of courtesies boarded the small steamer and went ashore

Large crowds had assembled on the wharves and houses to witness the landing of the distinguished visitor. On landing the party entered carriages belonging to the captain general and were driven to the palace where after a reception at the foot of the staircase by Gen Calleja, vice governor general and Joaquin Carbonel secretary of the government they entered and inspected the palace. The party then sought repose from the fatigues of the voyage. All appeared in excellent health and said that they had a pleasant trip. Gen Grant expressed much satisfaction with his stay in Florida and could almost have been induced to spend the winter there

The party will take passage on the steamer Alexandria hence for Vera Cruz on the 12th or 13th of February but before proceeding further Gen Grant intends making a trip to Hayti and probably to other West India Islands [illegible] and a U S steamer [illegible] General [illegible] Cuba [illegible] will accept several [illegible] visit [illegible] received to visit various plantations. The party took a drive this [illegible] [illegible] Havana [illegible] chief of staff and cavalry commander and naval adjutant of Captain General Blanco have been commissioned to attend Gen Grant and party during their stay here

TERMS ARRANGED WITH THE UTES.

Conference at Washington—Ouray will Bring the White River Murderers in Dead or Alive

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON Jan 22—An important meeting took place at the interior department today in which the Colorado delegation in congress, Gen Adams, Ouray, Jack, Washington, Sawawick participated. Schurz laid an injunction of secrecy upon all members of the conference so that details of the meeting cannot be had. It is understood however that the land question was thoroughly talked over and an agreement was reached which was satisfactory to all present except Senator Teller. This agreement is that the Utes of southern Colorado shall be removed to Grand river valley in the western part of the state. The White river Utes are to be removed to the Uintah reservation in Utah. Belford and Teller were at the outset hostile to this arrangement but Belford now seems to be satisfied with it. Teller on the contrary will oppose it with all his influence and with out his vote the secretary of the interior is afraid that the publication of that portion of the deliberations of the conference relating to the final disposal of the Indians themselves will not be well received in Colorado as the people of that state will not be pleased at any arrangement which will fail to remove the Indians entirely from the state. It is believed that the Utes will accept this settlement decided on to day, and it is intended to send some one to the Indian country to get the signatures of three quarters of the Utes to an agreement. As to the murderers of Meeker Ouray has already given his ultimatum. He will undertake to bring them in later in the season when spring opens if he has to kill them and he does not believe there is any other way of doing it. It is not probable that any final steps will be taken toward closing up the agreement until after the arrival of Gov Pitkin who is expected in a few days

The Ute Outbreak.

The house committee on Indian affairs today continued its investigation of the causes of the recent Ute outbreak

Commissioner of Indian Affairs Hayt concluded his statement which embodied a general defense of his administration

Cherry of the 5th cavalry, adjutant of Thornburgh's command gave an interesting history of military movements, but expressed no opinion as to any remote causes of the outbreak

WHO IS THE CHOICE?

The Outlook in New York, Michigan and South Carolina.

WASHINGTON Jan 22—A prominent New York republican politician announces that a careful canvass of the state shows that if Conkling attempts to carry the delegation to the national convention he will be defeated in every assembly district of the state. He says that the friends of Sherman and Blaine are thoroughly organized and are united for the purpose of defeating Grant and a third term. The gentleman who is authority for this statement, is connected with the organization and says that the movement was inaugurated without consultation either with Blaine or Sherman, but to unite all opposition to a third term. This, he thinks is overwhelming and that the state's delegation to the national convention will be divided between these two candidates

A Washburne Boom in South Carolina.

The Charleston News and Courier received here this evening, speaking of presidential candidates says: "Already there is a hint that E B Washburne, of Illinois, is the coming man and we have no hesitation in saying that it would be harder to beat him than any other republican who has been spoken of as the probable candidate

A Michigander's Opinion.

A gentleman prominent in Michigan arrived here to day who says that in the last month there has been a marked change in the feeling of the Grant managers in that state. They are now earnestly questioning among themselves whether it is expedient to nominate him. The indications which they find among the people of the state of opposition to a third term idea is the primary cause of this hesitation. The gentleman speaks from the position of a Chandler republican nearly all of whom have been known in Michigan as Grant men

More Utes En Route for Washington

Secretary Schurz has received a telegram from Gen Hatch to-day stating that a delegation of Southern Ute Indians were en route to Washington

THE AFGHAN SITUATION

Mohammed Jan's Forces—The Political Affairs of the Country.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CABUL Jan 22—Matters here are very unsettled. An outbreak is possible at any time and is almost certain to occur as soon as the snow melts. Mohammed Jan is very popular among the Afghans who will willingly follow him again when called upon. They do not admit defeat but say that they were only dispersed because they had no cannon with which to dislodge the British from Sherpur but the next time they will bring cannon. Sherpur has been greatly strengthened but is too large for the present garrison of 7000 troops and 4500 natives to hold and it is believed that the offensive against a combination of equal strength. The Kohistanis continue to treat but they cannot be relied on to keep quiet when disturbances recommence. Two influential Sirdars of Wardak have come in and it is hoped that others will follow. The excitement at Ghuzni and Logar continues. Mohammed Jan is actively preparing for another rising. The uncertainty as to whether the British intend to hold or abandon the country prevents influential chiefs from cordially co-operating with the English in preparing a government to succeed the present one. Nothing can be done until the British policy is known. It is believed that if the Afghans were left to choose an ameer they would choose Ayoub Khan, commander at Herat, who is avowedly hostile to the British, and friendly to the Russians

CALIFORNIA

Gov. Stanford Tells why the Central Pacific Men sold their Stock.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 22—Concerning the sale of 50 000 shares of Central Pacific stock to a syndicate of eastern capitalists Gov Stanford yesterday said to an Alta reporter: "I do not know that the sale will cause any change of policy. The amount sold was not such as to indicate any change in the control of the line. The stock was sold without any special object in view but simply in accordance with the desire of stockholders to put the stock on the market and to enable them to sell at fair prices. The stock has been on the board before but I do not know that any was sold. I would like to see our own people take stock and keep it at home. The road is in such a condition as to pay 6 per cent per annum without any trouble. By dispersing the stock into a number of hands there will be a large number of persons taking active interest in the company

MURDER MOST FOUL.

Particulars of the Grant County Horror—Darby Kills Stevens in his own Bed.

The following account of the murder of Stevens by Darby is from the Canyon City News of the 17th

About noon on Friday, January 9th, Darby met Stevens and asked him if he had any whisky? Stevens said "Yes, come down to the cabin and I will treat you." They went to Henry's cabin together and about 1 o'clock some man went to see Stevens, and upon opening the door Darby raised up and asked what in —— he wanted, "he'd better get out —— quick." About 3 o'clock a noise was heard inside and some one entered and found Darby on the floor besmearing his head in a pool of human blood, while on the bed lay Henry Stevens, horribly beaten, bruised and bleeding. The dying man told full particulars which are too foul for even the police papers to print. It appears that Darby attempted to commit an unnatural and unmentionable crime upon Henry, and when he offered resistance the hatchet was wrenched from him and in turn beaten by his assailant. Thus bleeding and dying the poor old man was at the mercy of this worse than hell hound for near three hours

The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Henry Stevens came to his death by blows received from a hammer or hatchet in the hands of John Darby. Darby has been in irons ever since. Mr Stevens was buried on Sunday last

The Land of the Spiked Helmet,

[Letter in Cincinnati Gazette.] One of the most notable things in merging from Switzerland, where I spent some two weeks altogether and coming into Germany is in the change in the military appearance. In Switzerland you rarely meet a soldier. In Germany they are ubiquitous. At the railway stations, in the little villages in the towns and cities, literally everywhere you are reminded that you tread the soil of the greatest military nation of modern times, or of any times. You see no officers of high rank but soldiers in plenty. Just now the military fetes are going on at Konigsberg, and the emperor and the high military dignitaries are there. I have conversed with soldiers and others as opportunity offered. An American is the passport to their tongues and hearts. They think the world of our country. I have attempted to draw from them how they like the German military system which demands of young men such rigid and long service in the army with its liabilities and penalties. Generally they think it no hardship. They are used to it, have grown up under it, expect it and are educated, and then, they rejoice in their country's glory. Kaiser William and Bismarck and Moltke are the greatest men who ever lived. They have no enmity to France. They simply love fatherland. They want to see it prosperous and glorious and they are ready to fight its battles. There are no doubt exceptions to this feeling especially among those who have families to leave in case of war, but I have not met with any such. German unity is their idol

Here's Where the Music Begins

[illegible]

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON Jan 22.

Teller offered a resolution calling on the secretary of the interior to inform the senate whether any member of the board of Indian commissioners had become interested in Indian contracts, adopted

On motion of Cameron of Pennsylvania it was resolved (yeas 31 nays 21) that when the senate adjourn to day it be to meet on Monday

The Bayard resolution was taken up and Coke made a speech thereon

Coke said that this was a very different question from the endorsement of the original issue of treasury notes. Whatever might be thought of the policy of issuing greenbacks they had been issued, pronounced constitutional and had formed for many years the principal part of our currency. They were no more questionable than the other results of the war. Greenbacks were part of the public debt guaranteed by distinct enactments. He claimed that this was a movement in the interest of the national banks and said that if the banks can get this resolution passed they can double their issues. This is a great stake they are playing for. He thought that there was a joint movement of the same corporations to entirely demonetize silver so that we would have only bank notes and gold

After an executive session the senate adjourned

House.

After some miscellaneous business consideration was resumed of the bank reserve bill. The previous question was seconded 100 to 48. The main question was then ordered and the hour's debate begun

At the close of the discussion the amendment requiring banks to keep their coin reserves in their own vaults was referred [illegible]

The question recurred on the third reading of the bill. On division the vote stood 33 to 140 and the yeas and nays were ordered. This vote resulted yeas 79 nays 158 and the bill was killed

The house then went into committee on revision of rules

Frye in the course of his speech referred to the salary grab which led Cox of New York to remark: "I did not vote for it and did not take the money, if you are looking at me."

Frye—I think the gentleman wanted it.

Cox—I made the only speech against it. Be very just because Maine is in trouble

Frye—Maine was in trouble a little while ago

Frye and Cox had an amusing passage in which Cox alluded to Garcelon, Frye's brother in law, in a manner that caused continuous laughter in the house. Both favored reversion

Cox also took occasion to say in response to Horr's recent humorous speech at his (Cox's) expense that Horr should not twit him of his size. The constitution required a man to be a certain age before becoming a representative but it was not necessary that he be two yards long and two broad. His constituents were large men and fighting men and never thought that blubber was intellect that meat meant manhood or that layers of lard over abdominal muscles made Gladstones or Disraelis. Shakespeare said that flesh and frailty went together. Were he to write Horr's epitaph, he would write it thus, borrowing from the sweet singer of Michigan and Lord Byron: "Here lies the body of Congressman Horr—tis grease but living grease no more."

Shouts of laughter greeted these sallies of wit

Tucker moved to allow Horr fifteen minutes to answer Cox to-morrow

Horr said that he would go on under the five minute rule and that that would finish the job

The committee rose and the house adjourned

MAINE MATTERS.

AUGUSTA Jan 22—The state house is still guarded and the local militia company remains in its armory. The fusionist legislature met this morning

In the house Cushman called for a report by the committee on elections. If he was holding a seat to which he was not entitled he wished to know it and go home

Various standing committees were announced. It was also announced that Governor Smith had received a congratulatory address from the Central club of greenbackers of Titusville, Pennsylvania.

The committee on elections will hear contested cases to-day. The committee on business before reporting will first advise with leaders

The Fusion Senate.

Atwell opposed an order to proceed to business saying "Let us go into the state house legislature or go home."

Another member favored compromise. He feared that the present policy would lead to bloodshed

Governor Smith told a reporter that under the present circumstances he should not deem it advisable but if we had possession of the state house the republicans would not get in without bloodshed

A Proposition to Arrest the Fusionist Officials on a Charge of Treason

The republican legislators are talking seriously of taking measures to arrest the whole batch of fusionist officials on a charge of treason

Portland Don't Want the Fusion Government.

PORTLAND, Jan 22—Mayor Walker has received a telegram from F W Hill of the fusion legislature asking if accommodations for that legislature could be had here. The mayor (dem.) consulted with the council and replied that no suitable accommodations could be arranged

General Items.

In the fusionist house a resolution was referred to a committee authorizing a conference with the Portland authorities to see if a building can be had there for the legislative and executive departments

In the republican senate an amendment to the constitution was presented to elect a governor by a plurality vote

The fusionist representative Staples has taken a seat in the republican house

The fusionists have a telegram inviting them to take up quarters in Biddeford

The Legislatures on Friendly Terms

There appears a friendly feeling between the two legislatures. The republicans have given the fusionists a liberal share of committee membership. The governor has well defined plans respecting the fusion body if it continues to assemble

More Time Wanted.

It is not yet certain whether the fusionist legislature will send a set of questions to the supreme court and to day the committee appointed to draft the document asked an extension of time until Friday afternoon

Grant and the South.

[From the Columbus (Miss.) Independent (Dem.)]

Southern democrats will support Grant when they learn to curse the memory of Lee and Jackson, and when they are willing to desert the graves of their soldier fathers, sons and brothers. Why the glorious women of the south would take possession of the polls and guard them with their tears and prayers. It is bad enough to lick another's foot upon compulsion but to run after him and beg the privilege is beyond expression. The southern democracy will never permit itself to be prostituted for the gain of a few miserable time servers who have been infesting the party with their presence because they dared not go to the republicans. If such think this is a favorable time let them depart. We have no respect for them as allies and no fear of them as enemies

MR. DELL AND HIS ANTECEDENTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

It seems that it is I who am on trial before the bar of public opinion. I thought it was the supreme court whom the people were trying. I learn last night that certain of the ringsters and their beneficiaries of the ring were industriously circulating the statement, to my great injury that this is not the first time I have been in a row with a supreme court and that Judge Reed had a letter from an old resident of Col Kelly H K McKay of Georgia saying that I was compelled to leave my native state on account of a quarrel with its supreme court. I have endeavored to find the alleged letter (if it exists) but have failed. I pronounce the whole story a base fabrication, and in proof of its falsity I herewith hand you for publication a letter from the supreme bench of Georgia, written ten days before my departure for Oregon. Also the published proceedings of the Atlanta bar had while I was away from the city visiting my father's family on his plantation, prior to my departure. Also a letter from Prof Orr state school commissioner my old college professor, also a letter from Gov Smith and all the state officers. These letters utterly refute these false allegations. Besides those I bore letters to Gen Lane from Hon A H Stephens, Gen Gartrell the great criminal lawyer of Georgia, and Gov Colquitt, Gen Lane's kinsman all to the same purpose. As to the genuineness of these last letters Gen Lane assures me he is ready to swear to them he being acquainted with the handwriting. I mention this because it has been charged by an anonymous writer that the letters were all forgeries. The public may see them at the OREGONIAN office at any time they desire. I also bore to Senator Kelly a letter from Senator B H Hill of equally high endorsement. This I delivered to him. Recently when the charge of forgery was made I addressed Col Kelly a letter of which the following is a copy

PORTLAND, Jan 10 1880

Hon James K Kelly—SIR: When I came to Oregon some three years ago I had the honor to present a letter of introduction to you from Hon Benj H Hill of Georgia, a fellow member of yours in the U S senate. Recently an anonymous correspondent of a paper printed in this city, a person supposed to be your friend and defender charged that the letter was spurious and a forgery. Circumstances given seeming acquiescence on your part in the charge. I therefore desire to withdraw the letter in order that I may submit it to public inspection, and I will thank you to return it to me by the bearer hereof

May I venture to inquire whether in fact the charge has your assent or acquiescence?

I have the honor to be sir very respectfully your obedient servant, SIDNEY DELL

To this the only reply I received was a verbal message saying "I haven't got the letter, and I don't know anything about it." Comment on such conduct is unnecessary

In conclusion I will say that the proudest memory of my life is the unfeigned regret of the people of my native state upon my leaving them, and the most poignant sorrow is the reflection that my ruin has been deliberately sought by certain democrats of my adopted state, from whom I expected nothing but the greatest kindness and that I have been forced, in self defense for sheer existence to hold up for public inspection the shortcomings of those democratic friends (?) I will further add that if those great "hunters" and detectives will write to Hon Geo S Thomas an ardent republican and acting U S district attorney at Atlanta or to the U S judge, they will get even more flattering vouchers than those from my democratic friends. Since these "hunters" and ringsters insist that I am on trial before the people and since their methods are all secret, my only remedy is to make my accusers face me in the presence of the people themselves

Very respectfully SIDNEY DELL

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA,
ATLANTA Ga, Dec 4, 1876

To the Bench and Bar of Oregon: The undersigned judges of the supreme court of Georgia take pleasure in introducing to your acquaintance our friend and brother Sidney Dell, Esq who, as we are informed, contemplates an early removal to and settlement in your state. He has long been a practitioner of law in this city and is of high personal and professional character. Very respectfully,

THE DEPARTURE OF SIDNEY DELL

[From the Atlanta Daily Times Dec 12 1876.]

ATLANTA Ga., Dec. 9, 1876

At a meeting of the bar of Atlanta circuit, called to meet at the court house to consider the departure of Sidney Dell Esq to his new home in Oregon, Judge John Hopkins was called to the chair, and Col John Milledge requested to act as secretary

Mr Henry Jackson stated that it had come to the knowledge of the Atlanta bar that Sidney Dell Esq was about to sever his connection with them, and to seek a new home in the state of Oregon, that on account of the prominent position which Mr Dell had occupied in the practice of his profession in this circuit, and of the regard which the respective members of this bar entertain towards him, it would be proper to take some formal action upon the severance of these relations, both professional and personal. He therefore moved the appointment of a committee of three to report suitable resolutions. The motion was unanimously carried

The chair appointed Mr Henry Jackson, Hon J T Pendleton and Mr A C King

The committee reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted

WHEREAS, It has come to the knowledge of the bar of the Atlanta circuit that Sidney Dell is about to sever his connection with them and to seek new fields of professional usefulness in the state of Oregon, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is with feelings of unfeigned regret that we part with our brother, that during an active professional practice extending through a period of nine years in this circuit he has shown integrity, ability and the greatest diligence; that his bearing in the midst of the most heated forensic struggles has always been marked by that courtesy and consideration which can only spring from a gentle heart; that in his departure for the west the state of Georgia has lost a most active and useful son, the city of Atlanta a most zealous citizen, the bar of the Atlanta circuit an able, indefatigable and courteous brother, and our society a polished gentleman. Be it further

Resolved, That we commend our brother to the bar of Oregon as one worthy of their consideration and to the state of Oregon as a citizen who will enter with active zeal into the development of the great west. Be it further

Resolved, That the city papers be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting

OFFICE OF STATE SCHOOL COMMISSIONER,
ATLANTA Ga, Dec 18 1876.

To the People of Oregon: It affords me great pleasure to commend to your confidence Sidney Dell Esq of this city who contemplates removal to your state. As a lawyer Mr Dell has ranked high with our people and he is universally regarded as a rising man. It is proper for me to add that as a man he commands the confidence of this community. I have known Mr Dell from his boyhood having been his instructor in his young manhood, and it affords me peculiar pleasure to say to the strangers among whom he proposes to cast his lot that I have ever considered him a true man

Amee Bogue the missing sheep herder of Wasco county spoken of a few days ago in these columns as having been missing since the great storm was found on the 14th inst

From Soda Springs: During the storm the timber fell like grass before the sickle. Roads are likely to be closed for some time. The high water consequent to the melting of the snow carried away about 25 feet of Mr Hess line's mill dam

From Wilsonville Clackamas county: Timber in some places at Wilsonville is piled up ten feet high. The storm destroyed more timber in its few hours duration than the settlers have in 30 years, three-fourths of the large timber is up by the roots

Following is the amount of money order business transacted at Oregon City from Jan 1 1879 to Jan 1, 1880. Number of orders issued 1639 total sum for orders $28 959 11, fees on the same, $231 number of orders paid, 917 total paid for same $21,359 21.

From Needy 19th inst: In a few days all the main roads will be open for travel in this vicinity. Our supervisors deserve great credit for their efforts in clearing the roads of logs and repairing bridges. Mr C W Noblett supervisor of road district No 48 has all the main roads of his district open.

From Highland Clackamas county: Considerable stock killed by the late storm, much damage done to growing crops. Mountain Home looks desolate. Mr Jesse Cox had his barn cut in two by a tree, and Mr John Blackwell lost his barn and woodshed. Fences are scattered all over the country, and the ground is covered with debris stripped from trees

Oregon City Enterprise: Out of 73 republicans in Oregon City who were asked to designate their choice for president, the result was as follows: Edmonds, 1, Washburne, 3, Sherman, 4, Grant, 8, Blaine, 51, no choice, 6. All expressed themselves as satisfied with any one that might be put in nomination. Many of those whose first choice was Blaine manifested a strong predilection for Grant as their second choice

Officers of Halsey Grange, recently chosen to serve during the ensuing year: Master, G H Raddell, overseer A Blevins, lecturer, R L Smith, steward, J. H. Knighton, A. S D Houck, chaplain, John Luper, treasurer A F Wyer, secretary, J. H. Scott; G K John Fagin, Ceres Mrs R Vernon, Pomona Mrs Mary Knighton, Flora, Mrs Charity Luper, L A S, Ella Luper

List of the principal losses by the storm at Damascus: Mr Deardorff, a barn and a fine mill, Mr Parsons, a heifer, B B Johnson barn roof, Messrs McMurray, barn and shed roof, Messrs Cook Bros, barn, woodshed and dryhouse, Dr Straight, woodshed; Mr C Stannard, barn roof and an ox, L G Hiscox, house and barn roof; Dan Fagaldes, house, Mr Halstead, one horse killed and another crippled, Rev Mr Rugg & Son, 7 head of cattle and one horse, Mr Jas Winston, dryhouse roof and fencing all down.

Oregon City Enterprise: During the week succeeding the storm the Enterprise and OREGONIAN were not taken to the different postoffices in this county, but the rag published here and a Portland democratic weekly, were safely delivered. We don't howl and cry fraud on our mail carriers and postmasters because of this, as the explanation is perfectly satisfactory. The Enterprise and OREGONIAN mail was too heavy, but the other two could be conveniently carried in the pockets of the mail carrier, who, because of the fallen timber, was compelled to go afoot

Additional storm news from Sandy: The whole country looks changed, because one-fourth of the timber is down. R. Gantenbein's large new barn was unroofed, a tree fell on Mr Mitchell's hay shed and demolished it, a falling tree smashed J Willie's woodshed, giving his house a close call. Trees fell about his outbuildings, but with the exception of his woodhouse all escaped, as if by a miracle. Jonas Cline's house was crushed by the chimney falling, destroying all the furniture. The family had a narrow escape. I hear of several barns having been unroofed and smashed in different places. E Rambow lost cattle, and reports say a good many are still missing. So far there have been no human lives lost, though some narrow escapes. No mails have arrived since the 8th and no hopes for any until some arrangements are made to forward them.

Was Sodom Destroyed by Meteors?

[From the New York Herald.]

Of course the Bible has been the study of the two orders of critics of history. In the last century "progressive" thought rejected in scorn the cosmogony of the Old Testament along with its inspiration. Then what a child's story they thought the deluge, how they laughed at the builders of Babel and scoffed at the fire from heaven which destroyed the cities of the plain? But the story of a great Asian cataclysm in far off ages, borne out by writings not at all inspired, becomes more and more of a certainty, thanks to the Assyriologists and in the confusion of tongues is traced the story of the parentage and lingual differentiation of a great world conquering race

Professor Proctor's letter on death dealing meteorites in Tuesday's Herald suggests that science may "naturalize" the destruction of Sodom. If either his computation that one person in every 400 years may be, or the statement that nine persons in the last nine centuries have been killed by meteors is demonstrable, the natural basis for such a calamity is established. And what has happened once may happen again. Remember how the atmosphere as the earth speeds through space at over 1100 miles in the minute would beat any dense bodies passing through it. Says Genesis: "The sun was risen upon the earth when Lot entered into Zoar. Then the Lord rained upon Sodom and Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven." Tradition would not soon lose sight of such a terrible story as is here indicated. Would not piety at length give the legend of a natural catastrophe like this a great personal impulse from on high and make it point to the distant after ages when writing began a moral of wickedness punished?

GREENBACKS AND BANK NOTES

Of all the forms in which the greenback mania presents itself is far the most insidious and most dangerous is the demand that greenbacks be substituted for national bank notes. In the house of representatives on Wednesday there was a debate on the proposition which disclosed a feeling of bitter hostility on the part of certain statists to retirement of greenbacks from circulation and are equally bitter opposed to national bank notes. Chittenden of New York proposed that the greenbacks be retired and that the gold in the treasury be put in circulation in their place. Townshend of Pennsylvania denounced this proposition, and proceeded to argue in the maundering way common to that statesmen in favor of retiring the national bank circulation instead, and alleged that this would save $14,000,000 a year to the treasury, that being the amount of interest paid on the national bonds deposited to secure bank circulation. Nothing could be more fallacious than this argument that if the bank circulation were retired the government would save the interest on the bonds which secure it, for the owners of the bonds would be entitled to receive them back and would still get their interest the same as now.

Most of the other demands of the fiatists are so palpably absurd that they can obtain currency only among the very ignorant or the very witless. But this comes with elements of plausibility that give it some hold on the minds of a somewhat higher grade of intelligence. Moreover it addresses itself with a concrete distinctness wanting to most of the vague generalities of the demagogue to the most powerful and mean of human passions,—envy, and finally, it offers itself in the illusory but fascinating aspect of a compromise or middle ground between the extremes of soft and hard money. If there were nothing else to commend it than the idea that the national banks profit by the issue of bank notes, any movement to deprive them of this privilege would be popular with a large class, but when to this is added the further idea, erroneous as it is, that the issues of national bank notes are sustained at a yearly cost of $14,000,000 to the people, it is the easiest thing in the world to excite popular prejudice against the national bank currency. The common argument is that substitution of greenbacks for bank notes would save the people the annual interest now paid on some $350,000,000 of bonds deposited in treasury as security for the outstanding notes. This can only mean that government could save the interest on $350,000,000 of bonds by forcing the people to loan that amount of money to the government without interest in the form of additional greenbacks, which they are to be compelled by law to accept and to use as money. This is exactly what the proposition means. It will strike the average business man as a curious way to save interest to the people to compel them to loan their capital to the government without interest and without any definite prospect of repayment. All experience proves, and the history of the greenback itself attests, that of all the ways of borrowing money which have ever been devised by governments, that of issuing irredeemable, non-interest bearing treasury notes, is by many times the most expensive and wasteful. In this way the people and the government, their agent, are sure in the long run to pay enormous rates of interest in the shape of discounts on the par value of the notes thus circulated. Resumption has been brought about by gradually retiring portions of the greenback issue from circulation, by keeping other large portions of the issue out of circulation with the aid of the national banks which hold heavy amounts of greenbacks as reserve, and by banking up in the treasury two hundred millions of gold to give confidence in the ability of the government to redeem the greenbacks on presentation. It is plain that resumption could not be maintained with any large addition to the greenback volume, and therefore that the proposition to add $350,000,000 to the greenback circulation to take the place of the national bank notes would mean the abandonment of specie payments and all prospects of return thereunto so long as this policy was persisted in. Therefore the certain effect of such a policy is not a matter of speculation. We should have some $670,000,000 of greenbacks, and resumption could not possibly be maintained with so great a volume of this circulation.

But it is said that it would not increase the volume of the paper currency to convert the bank notes into greenbacks, and therefore that resumption then would be as easily maintained as now. This view ignores the essential difference between these forms of paper currency. The greenback represents no actual capital. It is only a promise to pay, and is worth nothing except as the government may show an ability and disposition to redeem it. But the national bank note represents actual capital. It has the most solid form of value, the interest bearing bond, payable in gold, behind it. While the greenback is evidence of debt, that is, of inability on the part of government to pay, the national bank note is an evidence of capital, and the holder is absolutely certain that it will be paid because the condition of its issue is an ample provision of capital to redeem it. Whether the greenback will be paid or not depends on the caprice and political complexion of congress. But the national bank notes, secured by interest-bearing bonds, will be paid in any event, and, unlike the greenback there is no danger or possibility that they can ever be issued in such excess as to weaken their value because they can be issued only on the solid basis of government bonds.

But the national banks, it is asserted, "are paid a heavy interest by the government for exercising the privilege of extorting a heavy interest from the people." And phrases about the "substitution of the people's money for the paper of vampire corporations" have a seeming savor of patriotic virtue and manly resistance to oppression. Yet what is the arrangement that is described in these bloodcurdling terms? Simply this. The government insists, in the first place, that no association of individuals (bank) shall issue paper circulating notes unless they have means of redeeming the same. In order to prevent mistake or fraud, the government next insists that the property against which the notes are issued shall be lodged in the government keeping. Now if this property were houses or lots of land the transfer to the government would be effected by placing with the treasury officials the title deeds or the mortgages which establish the claims of the bank to ownership. But such evidences of property are difficult of valuation. They may be valid and valuable but a system which involved the acceptance of such security by the government would be costly and dangerous. Wherefore and for other sound reasons the government makes this further requirement that the property which is to be held to secure and redeem the circulating notes must be exchanged for government bonds and the bonds placed with the treasury at Washington. [illegible] to many puzzle headed people seems a patent and outrageous fraud namely an alleged double interest arrangement—that is interest on the bonds and interest on the bank issues. But the government would be obliged to pay interest on the bonds in any event whether they were owned by the banks or not, and as for the profits on the circulation which however is taxed in various ways so that the profit is usually quite small the case is similar to that of the owner of a house who obtains a business credit on his property and uses both the house and the money and that without being set down as a knave therefor.

The New York World the most prominent democratic paper in the country says that no sensible democrat has any idea that the people of the United States will tolerate any such half-baked idea as the substitution of greenbacks for bank notes. It adds: "As a matter of fact the people of the country at large are better pleased with the national banking system now than they were three years ago or two years ago or a year ago. There are doubtless points in which the system needs reform and improvement but as a whole it is an excellent working system. Security for the note holder and the depositor is nearly perfect under it. Since the bank of Glasgow failure the excellence of the American system has become so apparent that British opinion demands in the new banking legislation of parliament the same banking publicity which is the great merit of our plan."

GEN GRANT AND THE PRESIDENCY

No close and discriminating observer of political events believes it possible that Gen Grant can be nominated for the presidency. Beyond doubt there are many who strongly favor him and some of the more enthusiastic have mistaken the general acclamation with which he has been received in his progress through the country for evidence that he would obtain almost the united support of the people for the presidential office. But this from the first has been the fruit of shallow observation. We regard it as a certainty that Gen Grant will not even be mentioned as a candidate in the republican convention. No doubt there will be those in that body who would be glad to have him nominated, but they will be no long time in finding out that he cannot be nominated without a contest if indeed at all, and Gen Grant cannot enter into a scramble with other candidates in the convention. If he is to have it at all he must take it as a free offering. And he cannot get it in that way. For this opinion there are two capital reasons. First, there is a strong and indeed an invincible repugnance in many minds to the idea of a third term. This feeling is powerful enough to make itself felt in the convention. It will be represented in that body by advocates who cannot be silenced. Second, the supporters of other candidates will oppose the Grant movement resolutely and to the end. It so happens that they are much less opposed to each other than they are, respectively, to the Grant party. All these influences will make so strong a combination in the convention that those who would favor Grant will speedily see that their project is hopeless. For Grant cannot enter the convention as any other candidate would, to fight for the nomination. Consequently he will not be in the convention at all. Reports by telegraph which we have been printing daily for some time past indicate a steady growth of an opposition to the suggestion of a third term. Before the convention meets the project will be dropped altogether.

Among journals most anxious for democratic success in the coming presidential election is the New York Sun. It thinks, however, that the danger of the party is so great as to require certain plain truths to be told it. So it wishes democrats to take note of the fact that the party is not as strong as it was in 1876 and that the campaign of 1880 will be a different affair and fought on different issues from that of 1876. Carpetbagism has been eliminated from the south, and the people there have enjoyed the right of local self government to its fullest extent. It says that the intimidation of the blacks and the use of tissue ballots have hurt the party, but that a worse blotch upon the reputation of many democratic states is the taint of repudiation. The Sun fears that the people have lost faith in the democratic professions of reform that won the popular majority in 1876, and that the prestige of that success has been frittered away by a series of blunders.

It is said that the entire German press of Ohio is decidedly opposed to the nomination of Gen. Grant for a third term, and the German papers of Missouri, headed by the St Louis Westliche Post, take the same view. On this subject, the New York Republikaner, the leading German republican organ of the east, says the opposition to the Grant movement among that class of persons is very pronounced, and that many of these papers would support the democratic candidate as against Grant, unless he had been a confederate or a notorious "copperhead." The Republikaner is of the opinion that, since the German American element holds the key to the situation in seven northern states—viz New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin Michigan and Minnesota—common caution and prudence should prompt the leaders, who have the machinery in hand to take this circumstance into the most serious consideration.

Though Hendricks claims Indiana, Tilden is very strong in that state. Nearly all the country democratic papers are for Tilden, and three of the leading dailies are for him also. It is merely a question of money and power of organization and here is where Tilden is strong and where any other candidate would be weak. It is now no longer a secret that an average of about $5000 a county, making a total of nearly $500,000 was expended to organize the party and carry Indiana for Tilden in 1876. This year the contest will be equally doubtful and the necessity for money will be quite as great. Hence the workers in Indiana are all for Tilden, and some of them boldly say that he is the only democratic candidate who can carry the state.

The commissioner of pensions makes the statement that 200,000 applications for pensions are still pending. He estimates that during the next ten years if the same rate of increase is kept up and he sees no reason to doubt that it will, the pension roll will be doubled and the annual disbursements will exceed $30,000,000. At present it takes 1 per [illegible] of the whole revenue of the government to pay pensions. The sum required is about equal to the aggregate amount paid by Great Britain France Germany Belgium Austria and Hungary. Great Britain is always [illegible] her annual disbursements for pensions to soldiers [illegible] only to $1,750,000.

In the medieval ideas of feudal isolation still lingers with tenacious hold on many minds and with power to sway the policy of taking our own free public especially against the principles of sound economy.

The expense of a tramp around the world is calculated by the Argonaut on the basis of 150 days at $840 for first class and $600 for second-class accommodations. Under the first head are included these entries: New York to San Francisco $120, sleeping car, $21, meals on the road, $15, San Francisco to Sydney $200, expenses in Sydney $10, Sydney to Melbourne $25, expenses in Melbourne $4, Melbourne to Adelaide [illegible] expenses in Adelaide $10, Adelaide to [illegible] England to New York.

It is about time that the law and government in Maine should put an end to the farce of a rival government. If the party which has tried to steal the state persist much further in the endeavor to maintain a bogus and usurping government it will clearly be the duty of Gov Davis to issue a proclamation commanding the conspirators to disperse and if they do not obey to take measures to disperse them.

Gen Lane's grievous errors of former years in regard to the relations of the general government and the states which he is now enforced to acknowledge and for which he seeks oblivion, should suggest to him the propriety of avoiding dogmatic utterances on the same subject now.

Should certain proposed ordinances which we print this morning pass the common council and be enforced in their purpose and spirit several things will happen which will be conducive to morality and decency within the city of Portland.

We have an article from Perrydale on the schools but no name is given and the article cannot appear.

NEW TO-DAY.
[illegible]
LANDS,
PEND OREILLE DIVISION.
THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY
Is now offering for sale its [illegible]
5,000,000 [illegible]

A resolution [illegible] Pend d'Oreille Division in [illegible] which are comprised in the odd numbered sections [illegible] side of [illegible] from the mouth of Snake River in Washington Territory to Lake Pend d'Oreille in Idaho. These lands [illegible] fertility and adapted for raising grain [illegible] offered by the Railroad Company at such prices and terms as cannot fail to induce settlement and cultivation [illegible] with population of the country and increase [illegible] who now purchase.

The following Resolution of the Board of Directors of the Railroad Company [illegible] fixes the cash price of land to actual settlers at two dollars and sixty cents per acre, which it is believed is a lower price than has ever been voluntarily placed upon its lands by any land grant company. This is in fact cheaper than the settler can obtain the land of the Government under the pre-emption law, for the expense attending the making of final proof and the journey to the land office which he must necessarily make in order to complete his entry is more than the ten cents per acre added to the government price by the Railroad Company.

Resolved That the Agricultural Lands of the Company west of the Missouri river to Puget Sound shall be offered for sale to actual settlers at Government price of $2.50 per acre with an addition thereto of ten cents per acre to be paid to the Company to reimburse it for the cost of selecting, surveying and conveying said land.

This resolution does not apply to coal or iron lands nor to lands chiefly valuable for timber, nor to lands required for town sites or suitable for manufacturing sites nor in regions where water is scarce to lands containing springs or other natural supply where it shall be for the interest of settlers at large that such water privileges shall not be exclusively held or controlled by any individual, nor to the lands required for the use of the Company in connection with the operation of the road.

To persons wishing to purchase on time the remarkably low price of four dollars per acre is given on the following terms: One fourth cash at time of purchase the balance in three equal yearly payments at 7 per cent interest. The above price for time sales is adopted for the present but may be subject to change in the future.

All persons who have filed with the Railroad Company notices of intention to purchase or Settlers Applications as they are called for land in this Division (except for the class of lands reserved by the terms of the resolution above given) and who have continued to reside upon or cultivate the land and applied for are requested to complete their purchase by making cash payment or time contract for the same. For this purpose application should be made to the Railroad Land Office at Colfax.

Persons who have not made actual settlement or improvement upon land they may have applied for, have no right to the first privilege of purchase. Such lands will be sold to the first applicant. Those persons who have in good faith settled upon and improved the Company's land should lose no time in securing the same as after a given time the land is subject to sale to any other person.

The land in this division being now offered for sale no more Settlers Applications will be filed.

REMOVED. THE COMPOUND OXYGEN TREATMENT FOR THE CURE OF ALL CHRONIC DISEASES
PROF REES has fitted up offices on corner of Yamhill and First Sts—No 174 Room 2.
COMPOUND OXYGEN DOES NOT CURE BY THE SUBSTITUTION OF ONE DISEASE FOR ANOTHER as when drugs are used, but is an orderly process of revitalization. In the following list will be found the diseases which have proved the most amenable to Oxygen treatment: Consumption, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia in first forms can be stopped with the Oxygen. Any fever can be stopped in [illegible] Nervous Headaches [illegible] Paralysis and all Nervous Diseases may be radically cured [illegible]
PORTLAND Or, Jan 13 1880—This is to certify that I have tried all kinds of Patent Medicines which have failed [illegible] (having a bad cold which had settled on my lungs) when I was induced to try Prof Rees Compound Oxygen Treatment which had the desired effect: two days and in five days treatment was completely restored to my sound health. JOHN ROBERT OB
PORTLAND Or Jan 13 1880—Having taken treatment from Prof Rees for a severe cold in the head so bad that I could not breathe through my nostrils and so severe on the lungs that I could not speak when I was forced by friends to try the Compound Oxygen with very little faith but the first inhalation made me breathe freely, and I am convinced that it is the best and quickest method known to cure the disease and I cheerfully recommend it to all who are suffering from a Cold or Catarrh in the head. C A FRANCIS
The only Genuine Compound Oxygen from here to New York City. Beware of imitations.
HOME TREATMENT.—Can be safely sent any distance in a small and compact package. Price for treatment $15 [illegible] supply with inhaling apparatus and full explicit directions. j20

CITY

FALLEN TREES —M Seth Pammer who resides near [illegible] county about eighteen miles [illegible] city came to [illegible] He estimates [illegible] number of large trees across the road at [illegible] between his residence [illegible] In places [illegible] were piled in a height of [illegible] twenty feet. His losses are 5000 rails [illegible] which were covered with [illegible] brush. His barn and shed were blown down killing a [illegible] in addition nearly all [illegible] was uprooted Mr Pammer's [illegible] and two neighbors [illegible] hunting at the time [illegible] They were forced to seek [illegible] there were no large [illegible] until the subsidence of the gale When they reached home their friends were happy to greet them, expecting [illegible] again.

TO CLEAR THE ROADS On [illegible] a meeting was held at Cerdes store [illegible] to devise the best means to be taken to clear the roads. Mr S B Hatch was called to the chair. Mr F Revenue made a motion to appoint a committee of three to view and locate roads. G Wilpret made an amendment to appoint into a separate committee one for each road which was carried The following are the names of the members of the committees appointed Portland road [illegible] Nelang N McCord U Paine F Chase and J Branham Oregon City road M Peterson O Peterson and F Decker Foster road [illegible] Wilfong S B Hatch and J Cockelres Salmon creek road G Wilpret J Mitchell and J Oberander Committees to report [illegible] next, and all hands to go to work

PRIEST ARRIVED —From the Sentinel it is learned that Rev T Louis Metayer arrived here on the steamer Oregon Father Metayer was ordained for this archdiocese in Montreal on last Christmas day and left on the following day for this distant mission He is by birth a Frenchman about 25 years of age and speaks English with remarkable fluency considering the fact that he is but three years from his native land At present Father Metayer will act as assistant chaplain at St Mary's, Father Lajunesse being prostrate with hemorrhage of the lungs

NOT FINED —In the police court proceedings, published yesterday morning the name of C M Patterson appears as having been fined $5 for driving a vehicle without license which should have been published case continued to 23d inst This is one of the many cases of delivery wagons, the owners of which intend to resist in the courts the payment of licenses on the ground that the vehicle license law does not apply to wagons used by business men exclusively for delivering goods sold

FUNDS DEMANDED —Rev A C Fairchild addresses the following note to the Advocate "The ministers of the Portland district are requested to take the collection for the expenses of the delegates to the general conference, and forward the same to J H Acton or to the presiding elder The amount that each charge is to raise will be found in the minutes. A few of the brethren have already sent the full amount of their collections."

Y M H A ENTERTAINMENT —The Young Men's Hebrew Association will give next Sunday evening, in Handel & Haydn hall, another of their entertainments for which an excellent literary and musical programme has been prepared. A pleasing feature of their former entertainment has been the choice selection, and the brevity of all numbers presented, and the coming one will be no exception to the rule.

S S TEACHERS —At the last business meeting of officers and teachers of the Taylor street M E Sabbath school the following officers were elected Superintendent, J K Gill assistant superintendent E F Heroy lady superintendent, Mrs Jennie Hill secretary J F Clark, treasurer Oscar Clay, librarian, Frank Miller chorister, Mrs Fred Cozzens, organist Miss Mollie Caples

DEATH OF J. M. McCOY —Information was received here of the death of J M McCoy the well known policeman and detective at St Mary's Hospital San Francisco on Saturday. Mac was a brave officer and in ferreting out criminals never had an equal in this city. His friends here—and they can be numbered by scores—will sincerely regret his untimely death.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

[Daily Astorian 21st]

At the regular meeting of the Astoria chamber of commerce held on Monday evening the 19th inst Dr Aug C Kinney who has filled the position of secretary since the reorganizing of the chamber in Nov 1877 tendered his resignation professional duties rendering it impossible for him to attend the meetings regularly The doctor's resignation was accepted and the following resolution offered by Mr E C Holden was unanimously adopted

Resolved That the cordial thanks of this chamber are due and hereby tendered to Dr Aug C Kinney for the faithful and efficient services rendered by him as secretary, as well as for the hearty interest he has constantly manifested in the promotion and furtherance of all efforts made by the Astoria chamber of commerce to secure the accomplishment of such measures as have been inaugurated by it, calculated to promote the commercial interests of Astoria and the state of Oregon at large

Resolved That the president cause a copy of this resolution to be presented to Dr Kinney under the seal of the chamber

The resolutions having passed, Mr E C Holden was nominated and unanimously elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Secretary Kinney

A CARD OF GRATITUDE

ON BOARD STEAMSHIP OREGON }
Jan 10 1880 }

The undersigned passengers on the steamer Oregon from Portland to San Francisco on trip 37 Jan 4th to Jan 10 1880 desirous of expressing their gratitude to the commander Francis Connor for the able and seamanlike manner in which he has conducted the voyage and brought his ship (the steamer Oregon) safe into port through one of the most terrific gales that has been experienced for many years on this northwest coast, requiring not only untiring energy but exquisite seamanship and great personal bravery and skill, we all unite in expressing our thankfulness and appreciation of his services thus rendered to us Further we desire to express our thanks and appreciation of the faithfulness and zeal of all the officers of the ship especially First Officer B Poleman whose voice was constantly heard throughout the storm, cheering his men and lending a ready hand himself Wishing you all gentlemen long and prosperous careers we are with much respect

FIRST APPEARANCE OF MAN IN AMERICA

[illegible] WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Dr H [illegible] the preliminary doc [illegible] animal geography [illegible] approximately [illegible] That the differ [illegible] ast from above [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] traits of all North [illegible] Amer [illegible] he showed to be [illegible] that races so [illegible] American [illegible] period as broad as [illegible] language

[illegible] man [illegible] elephant family [illegible] North America [illegible] remain [illegible] This [illegible] migration [illegible] time or season of [illegible] passed over [illegible] the other hem [illegible] the precession of the equinoxes according to the theory of the glacial epoch now commonly received At such a time the shallows of Behring's Strait would have been drained dry by the vast accumulations of ice and snow in the antarctic circle together with the attraction of the ice masses which would to a certain extent shift the center of gravity of the earth These animals being Old World products and the result of Old World influences were not able to endure those of the New when the interruption of land communication between the two worlds ceased and fresh blood and vigor was no longer infused into these races by fresh importations from time to time as they became needed

From the fact that animal and vegetable species growing in larger areas are superior in qualities of hardihood and endurance to those growing on smaller ones we should infer he said that plants brought here from the old world would push aside and kill out those of the new which is strictly in accordance with facts for both North and South America have been declared by botanists to be the garden of European weeds In proof of which he gave many instances To the philosophic mind he said the rapid extension of old world races of men in America and the exclusion of the native races by them was simply a repetition of the victorious progress of old world weeds The same thing he said takes place elsewhere and the Maories of New Zealand recognize the inexorable march of events resulting from their contact with Europeans and have summed up the question in the following saying As the white man's rat has driven away the native rat as the European fly drives away our own and as their clover kills our fern so must the Maories disappear before the white man himself

This struggle for existence he remarked is not a necessary evil but rather a necessary good for it is the same thing as free competition in civil life which gives success to the more capable and energetic and inexorably crushes those who linger in the rear The irruptions of rude tribes into civilized regions he said are usually looked upon as great calamities but a little reflection will lead to a different conclusion for when such combats for existence arise our race is raised by steps to a higher state of development let them terminate as they may for either the race with whom the higher civilization exists will succeed in opposing a barrier to the new flood and gather strength by the strife or they will be subdued by reason of weakness and give place to a stronger and more efficient race

Though a noble civilization was crushed to ruins by the subversion of the Roman Empire the barbarians exceeded the Romans in freshness and vigor which gave them the right and power of conquest and when we contrast the followers and successors of Genghis Khan with the degenerate Greeks we need not wonder nor repine that the former should have prevailed The Mongolian warriors could endure hunger and fatigue joined the virtues of abstinence to those of action and could pass from habits of submission to those of command The practice of these virtues extorted the reluctant praise even of their Christian enemies and when we compare them with the pride and ignorance of the Greeks their mutinous temper and the vices of intemperance and disorder that had contaminated them the side to which victory must and ought to incline is no longer doubtful

The Doctor concluded by saying Here lies the benefit of the persistent struggle for existence that nature ordains—the weaker give place to the stronger and those races inherit the earth that are best adapted to the fulfillment of their mission The book of nature is the book of God and when rightly understood all its teachings speak of beneficence and love

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 23, 1880.

THE WILD BOOM IN IRON.

[From the Chicago Tribune, Jan. 16.]

The iron production in the United States seems to have gone mad, and is clearly rising to a most calamitous result. The price of iron has been advancing since July, 1879. The demand for iron and steel, after the long comparative stagnation, exceeded the immediate means of the manufacturers. At once the price was raised. Orders equal to the production for several months to come were soon received. Each order was followed by an additional rise in prices. Then followed a demand for foreign iron to meet the wants of the country. Prices of domestic iron and steel soon reached such figures that it was cheaper to buy foreign iron and steel, and pay the heavy duties and freights thereon, than to wait and pay the advancing prices at home. The manufacturers of steel rails in Pennsylvania found it was cheaper to import English blooms and make rails out of them than to pay the enormous prices demanded for American pig. American manufacturers also began to import foreign pig iron, and found it cheaper than to purchase American pig. The British iron and steel market, which had been largely closed, revived under orders from America. English mills and furnaces which had put out their fires and discharged their operatives, resumed business. At first they were glad to sell iron at low prices. Under the strong demand from the United States they too advanced their rates, and, once in full blast and operation, they too have made the price of iron and steel as high as was possible to admit exportation and the payment of the high duties under the American tariff. The tariff has long since been disregarded by our iron and steel manufacturers; their prices are no longer controlled by the rate of duty on imported iron and steel. American pig iron, which on January 1, 1879, was sold in New York at $18 per ton, commanded on the 1st of January, 1880, $35 per ton. This is an increase, and mainly since last July, of nearly 100 per cent. For a long time prior to January, 1879, foreign pig iron had ceased to be imported, and now, notwithstanding the large importation of pig and other forms of iron and steel, the price is 100 per cent greater than one year ago. The present prices in this country have so stimulated prices in Europe that iron manufacturers there are reaping a rich harvest, all the more grateful because unexpected and forced upon them by the avarice and greed of the American manufacturers.

It is easy to shout approvingly of this "boom," but is there not a serious difficulty behind it all? The present demand for iron and steel was a sudden one. The general revival of business included all branches calling for an increased supply of iron and steel. Our manufacturers were content with $17 to $18 per ton for their pig, and the prices of all other iron and of steel were proportioned to that of pig iron. These prices were so low that they, with the protection of $7 per ton on pig iron and $28 per ton on steel rails, prohibited the importation of foreign iron. The advance in prices soon overcame the protective duty, and to meet this sudden and unexpected demand there has been a large importation of foreign iron and steel.

Under this increased sale at advanced prices there has been a steady, regular advance in the cost of labor. The wages of the coal miners have increased the price of coal and of iron ore; the advance in wages of all workmen engaged in the manufacture of iron and iron goods has increased the cost of production. As each advance in the price of iron takes place there is a strike and a demand, and an increase in the rates of wages from the coal and ore digger in the mines to the last laborer or mechanic that handles the finished product. The workmen naturally and justly demand and will have their share of the enormous profit reaped in the iron trade at the expense of the consumer.

Of necessity there must be a limit to the price which the consumer can afford to pay for iron and steel. When the sudden demand has been in a measure supplied, when existing orders, extending, perhaps, to May or June next, shall have been filled, the high prices will cause a serious reduction in the consumption until prices recede. When this decline in the consumption of iron and steel, because of their excessive charges, takes place, the manufacture of all other goods in which iron and steel are employed, will also decline, and for the same cause. The decline in consumption because of enormous prices, will force a reduction of production, and a reduction of the cost of production. The prices of foreign iron will, of course, fall first. Their margin between the present prices and their cost of production is too great to resist a falling market. Foreign iron and steel will pour into the country at such reduced prices as the market will bear.

Then will begin the troubles of the men who have run up the prices of iron to such extravagant rates. They will have to reduce the cost of production. This reduction will be resisted at every step by the workmen, and the present wages will only be reduced through the long and disastrous processes of "strikes" and "lock-outs," closing of mines and of mills, and of furnaces and forges. In the meantime foreign iron and steel will supply the market, and the manufacturers who have levied their advance of 100 per cent. in 1879 will find their trade taken from them, and their operatives occupying the distressed condition of the foreign iron workers a year ago, locked out by their employers and vainly attempting by long strikes, labor unions and workingmen's organizations to resist a reduction of wages. It is beyond all question that before the end of 1880 there will be such a falling off in demand for iron and steel, or such a reduction of their prices, as to compel a general reduction of wages in all branches of that industry. When that reduction is attempted the manufacturers who are now reveling in the great boom of extravagant and extortionate prices will find that a falling market is a natural sequence of a rise pushed beyond all reasonable cause, and that this falling market brings with it serious disasters, not easily avoided or remedied, both to employers and employed.

MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY.

PORTLAND, Jan. 22, 1880.

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Since the appearance of my article in your issue of the 9th inst., I have been asked by a number of gentlemen what other branches of trade and how Portland at large would be benefitted by the establishment of a glass factory here. With your permission to use your columns, I shall briefly answer these queries. Apart from the consumption of materials used in making glass, and the benefit derived by those who may supply these, a large number of boxes must be used for packing wares. This must give some box factory a constant run of work, increasing the demand for lumber and nails, and furnishing employment to a number of workmen. This remains true as well when the glass firm manufacture their own packages, as when furnished by outside parties.

Large quantities of straw are used for packing, thus providing a market to farmers for their surplus production of that article. Moulds must be cast, fitted up and kept in repair, furnishing work to pattern makers, foundrymen, and machinists. Tools of various kinds must be supplied and kept in order, which will give additional work to blacksmiths. There will be a great many brick used, both common and fire brick, supplying increased labor for brick layers. The consumption of fire and potter's clay will give employment to others besides the maker of pots. The daily consumption of coal by such a factory as I have indicated, would be from six to eight tons—probably ten tons of the quality found here. This would supply work for a number of men, and be a constant factor employed in the development of our coal beds.

Such an establishment would bring, with their families, numbers of workmen, both in glass and other occupations, thus benefiting the grocer, dry goods dealer, real estate dealer and all others whom the presence of an industrious, wage-working addition to our population would profit.

The money now paid out to distant cities for manufactured wares would be expended here in the shape of wages, etc., and continue to circulate at home. Like the heart which sends the rich, life-giving blood coursing through the arteries, carrying health and vigor to the most remote member of the body, so such an enterprise would send through the whole body politic vivifying streams of useful employment, profit, prosperity and felicity. Now, Mr. Editor, from this cursory view we may readily see the advantages that must accrue to the place by the establishment of such a factory. These are so well understood, and are so desirable in their nature, that in many places real estate owners donate the factory site and municipal authorities exempt the enterprise from taxation and otherwise aid it.

With every facility at hand, and with the material prosperity of the city and state at heart it cannot be that the field which here presents itself for promotion of the public welfare shall long remain unoccupied.

J. K. PHILIPS.

The local money market is what some call very inactive, with no extensive inquiry from borrowers, but rates on loans and discounts are unchanged. Remittances from the interior are very light since the beginning of the year. Generally speaking there seems to be a good supply of available capital to support the legitimate business of the country.

Domestic Produce.

The situation in this branch of trade has not undergone any great change during the week under review. The receipts of wheat and flour have not been large, as holders are inclined to part with them very sparingly under the declining market which has prevailed. The only thing which has buoyed prices at all is the report of exceedingly bad weather for the crops in the ground in England. This, however, is not likely to affect prices much to the advantage of holders for some time to come. In this country generally the reports indicate a very large area sown and a very generally favorable condition of the plant. It is claimed by San Francisco papers that California, with a good season, will produce nearly or quite one hundred per cent. more than last harvest, and a larger crop than any other state ever furnished. This is probably an exaggeration, but there is no doubt that the area in that state in wheat is by far greater than ever before.

The vessels here are having good dispatch, but only at reduced rates are shippers willing to take up other vessels. Wheat buyers seem to be nearly as backward to enter upon transactions as holders, and some who are generally in the market offer $1 90@1 92½, while $1 95 is called the top of the market. Flour is somewhat slow sale at quoted rates, and millers are not disposed to make any concessions. Oats are in fair supply with no general active demand. Potatoes very dull, with prices almost impossible to fix. Good cured meats are a little scarce and higher. Eggs have sold during the week all the way from 50 to 80 cents per dozen, and are quotable at the latter figure to day. Other products in fair request at quotations.

San Francisco Wheat Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—Wheat—No. 1 milling, $2@2 02½; No. 1 shipping, $1 97½@2; No. 2, $1 90@1 95.

POTATOES—Have been very dull during the past week at 50@60c ℔ 100 lbs.

HIDES—Market steady at 18@23 for first-class dry, 6½@7½c lb green; culls, ⅓ off.

EGGS—The market is better supplied and prices have declined to 30c.

New York Freights and Markets.

Clipper freights are rather quiet owing to firmness in rates which have been advanced fully two dollars per ton by lines having vessels on berth. This advance will no doubt be permanent, as agents find it very difficult to get vessels even at current rates, let alone at such figures as have been ruling for the past sixty days.

The Louisiana in the Simonson & Howes line is ready for sea with upwards of 2190 tons of cargo.

The cargo of the Chandos, for Portland, Oregon, is composed of 6544 bars of railroad iron, 563 kegs spikes, 2801 barrels of splice bars, and 109 packages of machinery, engine, boiler etc. for the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Freights via the Isthmus are quiet for the time being but there is much inquiry for room and the company will take some through freight on the steamer on the 30th. The departure to-morrow will have but a very small quantity. Through freights are dull and easier generally.

Breadstuffs are more dull and depressed than before; prices about the same.

Pork—Dull and nominal.

Lard—Quiet.

Rio Coffee—Very dull, quarter lower.

Refined sugars—Moderately active, prices weak.

Teas—Quiet and steady, public sale to-day lower; on Japans about steady; on greens, formosa ammayo and kindles quiet, and prices unsettled.

Turpentine—Quiet, 49½.

Petroleum—Dull, nominal.

Beerbohm English Wheat Report.

LONDON, Jan. 21.

Floating cargoes of wheat steady. Cargoes on passage and for shipment, very little inquiry. Mark Lane wheat quiet. Good cargoes No. 2 spring off coast, per 480 lbs, less usual commission, 51s 6d@52s. Numbers of wheat cargoes on sale off coast, 15 to 20. Imports of wheat into United Kingdom for past week 135,000@140,000 qrs. Imports of flour, same period, 130,000@135,000 bbls. Liverpool spot wheat firmly held.

Produce Receipts.

Produce receipts at Portland for the twenty-four hours ending at noon to-day: Wheat, 2711 sks; flour, 1637½ bbls; hides, green, 19; dry, 41; pelts, 3 bdles; potatoes 60 sks; eggs, 21 bxes; sheep, 1 car; cabbage, 1 crate; chickens, 7 coops; smelt, 7 bxes; fish, 31 pkgs; oysters, 27 sks; green apples, 36 bxes; hay, 35 bales; lard, 2 kegs; beer, 2 kegs; trees, 8 bdles; butter, 13 kegs; dried fruit, 127 bxes; onions, 50 sks; oats, 208 sks; veals, 4.

The New York Fruit Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The market for foreign fruits is pretty firm. In raisins, currants and citron there is moderate business, but prices for other kinds are in buyers' favor.

Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Wheat—Unsettled $1 [illegible]; cash, $1 20¾; February delivery, $1 21¼.

Shipping Intelligence.

The British barque W. D. Seed commenced taking in wheat to-day. She will take in 1100 tons of Walla Walla.

The barkentine North Bend brought up about 300 tons of freight, which she discharged, and to-morrow morning will be towed to Knappton to load lumber for San Francisco.

The British ship Merwanjee Framjee arrived this morning in tow of the Wonder. She will load wheat.

The steamship Oregon for San Francisco will leave Saturday morning at the usual time.

Vessels chartered to load railroad material at Cardiff for this port get £3 [illegible].

Rates for charters at this port are receding, the highest offer that can be had to-day is [illegible] to U. K. Some think the rates will go still lower.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

The Stomach is Strengthened

The liver regulated, the bowels put in proper order, the blood enriched and purified and the nervous system rendered tranquil and vigorous by this inestimable family medicine and safeguard against disease, which is moreover, a most agreeable and effective appetizer and a cordial peculiarly adapted to the wants of the aged and infirm. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

---

45 Years Before the Public.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. MCLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name, McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

K. B.

KING OF THE BLOOD

THE MOST THOROUGH PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD YET DISCOVERED.

Cures all Humors, from a Common Eruption to the Worst Scrofula.

It purifies the Blood.
It invigorates the Liver.
It regulates the Bowels.
It strengthens the Stomach.

It gives vivacity in place of lassitude; cheerfulness in place of gloom, and robust vigor in place of debility.

Dyspepsia, Biliousness Disordered Liver, Constipation, Nervous Affections, General Debility, in short all the numerous diseases and discomforts caused by impure blood are speedily conquered by this powerful corrector, the chief and sovereign of all ancient or modern medical discoveries—KING OF THE BLOOD.

ITS NAME IS ITS BEST DESCRIPTION, as it is a royal dispenser of the blessings of health, and vanquishes the foes that lurk in the blood.

It banishes PIMPLES, SALT RHEUM, SCALY ERUPTIONS, ULCERS, SCALD HEAD, FEVER SORES and all SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

It checks CONSUMPTION in its early stages. It has frequently cured it when advanced.

It disperses TUMORS and CANCERS without the Surgeon's knife.

It cures DROPSY, general or partial.

It cures FEMALE WEAKNESS and DISEASE.

It reduces in a safe and effectual manner all swellings, external or internal.

It eradicates the effects of Mineral Poisons, and establishes a sound constitution.

Many certificates, much further information and full directions for using, will be found in the pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," in which each bottle is enclosed.

Price $1 per bottle containing 12 ounces, or 40 to 50 doses. Sold by Dealers in medicine.

DR. PAUL W. BRENAN

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast.

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit these diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Lung Diseases, Skin Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Heart, Stomach and Bladder, treated without fail.

Consultation free. Send a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamps for list.
